

Subject: Fwd: Statehouse Update From News Editor Rob Burgess
From: Rob Burgess <rburgess@nuvo.net>
To: Rob Burgess <robertandertonburgess@gmail.com>
Date Sent: Wed, 17 Apr 2019 14:45:08 -0400
Date Received:

---

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Ian McPhee <ian@nuvo.net>
Date: Wed, Apr 17, 2019 at 2:44 PM
Subject: Fwd: Statehouse Update From News Editor Rob Burgess
To: Rob Burgess <rburgess@nuvo.net>

----- Forwarded message -----

From: NUVO <newsletter@nuvo.net>
Date: Wed, Jan 30, 2019 at 9:40 AM
Subject: Statehouse Update From News Editor Rob Burgess
To: <ian@nuvo.net>

NUVO - /Slash

Wednesday, January 30th, 2019

FEBRUARY
2 - 28
IN THE
INDIANAPOLIS
ARTSGARDEN

20 Art & Soul 19

BLACK MIGRATIONS AND URBAN REALITIES

EVENTS BEGIN
AT 12:15 AND
ARE FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Statehouse Update: 2019

Updated 8 min ago

Hey, it's Rob Burgess, NUVO News Editor, taking over the Slash newsletter today.

If you've been paying attention recently, you've noticed we are working hard this year to find as many opportunities as possible to connect more meaningfully with readers. That's particularly important in our news coverage, and I'm excited to have more input from you in identifying and producing the stories we tell about Indianapolis.

Every week, in this space, I'll be sharing with you what I'm working on now, and what I'm looking at going forward. Most of all, I want you to feel like you are a part of the process, not just a consumer. I need your help to make this all work, and communication is key.

Feel free to reach out to me on Twitter, via email at rburgess@nuvo.net, or you can call me at 317-808-4614. You can also use our new City Committee page to tell us what ideas you think we should be exploring.

The latest print edition of NUVO, published today, is all about the 2019 legislative session at the Indiana Statehouse. From redistricting to teacher pay to reproductive rights to hate crimes law to cannabis reform, we're breaking up the hundreds of bills filed each year by category. I've included links to the digital versions of that coverage below.

There is, of course, lots more to say on these and many other subjects, but this is a great starting point. Let me know how you'd like us to follow up on these stories and keep you informed as the General Assembly session progresses.

Looking ahead, I've got an exciting one-on-one interview with former Indianapolis Mayor Greg Ballard. He'll be swinging by the office on Tuesday, Feb. 5 to discuss his new book, Less Oil or More Caskets: The National Security Argument for Moving Away From Oil. I've just started reading it, but I already know we'll have lots to discuss. Is there something you think I should ask him? Let me know!

Again, thanks for taking the time to subscribe and read this. I look forward to a great year of collaborative journalism.

- Rob

Statehouse Update: Hate Crimes

The question of whether or not to include protected classes continues to be a sticking point in the push to remove Indiana from the list of five states without hate crimes legislation.

Read more

Statehouse Update: Teacher Pay

Everyone agrees Indiana's teachers need to be paid more, but there is little agreement about how to make that happen. Here's where legislation addressing the issue stands so far in the session. Read more

Statehouse Update: Redistricting

Advocates for redistricting reform have been trying unsuccessfully to get a bill through the Statehouse. And, with the 2020 U.S. Census coming right up, time is running out.

Read more

Statehouse Update: 10 Bills to Root For

While most of the truly progressive items this session are doomed to fail, at least 10 bills have us hopeful some good ideas might become law—including an increased minimum wage. Read more

2♀19

Statehouse Update: Reproductive Rights

Indiana lawmakers like nothing more than legislating ladyparts. Here's what they've come up with so far this session on abortion, pregnancy rights, and maternal healthcare.

Read more

Statehouse Update: Cannabis Legislation

Activists for medical and recreational cannabis in Indiana had been hoping 2019 would be a big year, but so far, it's a political non-starter at the General Assembly. Read more

Winter events at

DON'T MISS OUT

NUVO

3951 N. Meridian St., Suite 200

Indianapolis, IN 46208

317-254-2400

Copyright © 2019 NUVO. All Rights Reserved

NUVO, 3951 N. Meridian St., Suite 200, Indianapolis, IN 46208

SafeUnsubscribe™ ian@nuvo.net

Update Profile | About our service provider

Sent by newsletter@nuvo.net

--

-----
Ian McPhee

Web Admin / Technical Expert

NUVO

--

Rob Burgess

News Editor, NUVO

NUVO.net

Phone: 317-808-4614

Twitter: @robaburg

Subject: Fwd: Statehouse Update From News Editor Rob Burgess
From: Ian McPhee <ian@nuvo.net>
To: Rob Burgess <rburgess@nuvo.net>
Date Sent: Wed, 17 Apr 2019 14:44:12 -0400
Date Received: Wed, 17 Apr 2019 11:44:30 -0700 (PDT)

---

----- Forwarded message -----

From: NUVO <newsletter@nuvo.net>
Date: Wed, Jan 30, 2019 at 9:40 AM
Subject: Statehouse Update From News Editor Rob Burgess
To: <ian@nuvo.net>

NUVO - /Slash

Wednesday, January 30th, 2019

Statehouse Update: 2019

Hey, it's Rob Burgess, NUVO News Editor, taking over the Slash newsletter today.

If you've been paying attention recently, you've noticed we are working hard this year to find as many opportunities as possible to connect more meaningfully with readers. That's particularly important in our news coverage, and I'm excited to have more input from you in identifying and producing the stories we tell about Indianapolis.

Every week, in this space, I'll be sharing with you what I'm working on now, and what I'm looking at going forward. Most of all, I want you to feel like you are a part of the process, not just a consumer. I need your help to make this all work, and communication is key.

Feel free to reach out to me on Twitter, via email at rburgess@nuvo.net, or you can call me at 317-808-4614. You can also use our new City Committee page to tell us what ideas you think we should be exploring.

The latest print edition of NUVO, published today, is all about the 2019 legislative session at the Indiana Statehouse. From redistricting to teacher pay to reproductive rights to hate crimes law to cannabis reform, we're breaking up the hundreds of bills filed each year by category. I've included links to the digital versions of that coverage below.

There is, of course, lots more to say on these and many other subjects, but this is a great starting point. Let me know how you'd like us to follow up on these stories and keep you informed as the General Assembly session progresses.

Looking ahead, I've got an exciting one-on-one interview with former Indianapolis Mayor Greg Ballard. He'll be swinging by the office on Tuesday, Feb. 5 to discuss his new book, Less Oil or More Caskets: The National Security Argument for Moving Away From Oil. I've just started reading it, but I already know we'll have lots to discuss. Is there something you think I should ask him? Let me know!

Again, thanks for taking the time to subscribe and read this. I look forward to a great year of collaborative journalism.

- Rob

Statehouse Update: Hate Crimes

The question of whether or not to include protected classes continues to be a sticking point in the push to remove Indiana from the list of five states without hate crimes legislation.

Read more

Statehouse Update: Teacher Pay

Everyone agrees Indiana's teachers need to be paid more, but there is little agreement about how to make that happen. Here's where legislation addressing the issue stands so far in the session. Read more

Statehouse Update: Redistricting

Advocates for redistricting reform have been trying unsuccessfully to get a bill through the Statehouse. And, with the 2020 U.S. Census coming right up, time is running out.

Read more

Statehouse Update: 10 Bills to Root For

While most of the truly progressive items this session are doomed to fail, at least 10 bills have us hopeful some good ideas might become law—including an increased minimum wage. Read more

Statehouse Update: Reproductive Rights

Indiana lawmakers like nothing more than legislating ladyparts. Here's what they've come up with so far this session on abortion, pregnancy rights, and maternal healthcare.

Read more

Statehouse Update: Cannabis Legislation

Activists for medical and recreational cannabis in Indiana had been hoping 2019 would be a big year, but so far, it's a political non-starter at the General Assembly. Read more

NUVO
3951 N. Meridian St., Suite 200
Indianapolis, IN 46208
317-254-2400

Copyright © 2019 NUVO. All Rights Reserved

NUVO, 3951 N. Meridian St., Suite 200, Indianapolis, IN 46208

SafeUnsubscribe™ ian@nuvo.net

Update Profile | About our service provider

Sent by newsletter@nuvo.net

--

-----
Ian McPhee

Web Admin / Technical Expert

NUVO